

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF WEST VIRGINIA
CHARLESTON DIVISION

B. P. J., et al.,
Plaintiff,

v.

CIVIL ACTION NO. 2:21-cv-00316
Judge Joseph R. Goodwin

WEST VIRGINIA STATE
BOARD OF EDUCATION, et al.,

Defendants.

STIPULATED PROTECTIVE ORDER

By signing this Protective Order, the parties have agreed to be bound by its terms and to request its entry by the presiding district or magistrate judge. It is hereby ORDERED as follows:

I. DISCOVERY PHASE

A. If a party, or a non-party producing information in this civil action, or an attorney for the party or non-party, has a good faith belief that certain documents or other materials (including digital information) subject to disclosure pursuant to a request or court order, are confidential and should not be disclosed other than in connection with this action and pursuant to this Protective Order, the party, non-party, or attorney shall clearly mark each such document or other material as “CONFIDENTIAL.” The individual or entity designating the document or materials as “CONFIDENTIAL” must take care to limit any such designation to specific documents or materials that qualify for protection under the appropriate standards. Mass, indiscriminate, or routine designations are prohibited. Designations that are shown to be clearly unjustified or that have been made for an improper purpose (e.g. to unnecessarily encumber or delay the case development process or impose unnecessary expense and burden on another party) expose the designating individual or entity to sanctions. If it comes to the attention of the designating individual or entity that a document or other material has been improperly marked as “CONFIDENTIAL,” the designating individual or entity must promptly notify all parties that the erroneous designation is being withdrawn and must replace the improperly designated document or material with a copy that is not marked “CONFIDENTIAL”.

B. If a party or an attorney for a party disputes whether a document or other material should be marked “CONFIDENTIAL,” the parties and/or attorneys shall attempt to resolve the dispute with the designating individual or entity. If they are unsuccessful, the party or attorney challenging the “CONFIDENTIAL” designation shall do so by filing an appropriate motion.

C. No party or attorney or other person subject to this Protective Order shall distribute, transmit, or otherwise divulge any document or other material which is marked “CONFIDENTIAL,” or the contents thereof, except in accordance with this Protective Order. Court personnel are not subject to this Protective Order while engaged in the performance of their official duties.

D. Any document or other material which is marked “CONFIDENTIAL,” or the contents thereof, may be used by a party, or a party’s attorney, expert witness, consultant, or other person to whom disclosure is made, only for the purpose of this action. Nothing contained in this Protective Order shall prevent the use of any document or other material which is marked “CONFIDENTIAL,” or the contents thereof, at any deposition taken in this action.

E. If a party or attorney wishes to disclose any document or other material which is marked “CONFIDENTIAL,” or the contents thereof, to any person other than:

1. Plaintiff B.P.J.,
2. Her next friend and mother, Heather Jackson,

3. Counsel of record for Plaintiff, their professional staff, or their litigation vendors, or
4. Defendants, Counsel of record for Defendants, their professional staff, their insurers, or their litigation vendors;

but is actively engaged in working on this action on behalf of Plaintiff or Defendants (e.g., expert witness, expert consultant), the person making the disclosure shall do the following; provided, however, that any such disclosure shall only be made to such person for purposes of litigating this case:

1. Provide a copy of this Protective Order to the person to whom disclosure is made;
2. Inform the person to whom disclosure is made that they are bound by this Protective Order;
3. Require the person to whom disclosure is made to sign an acknowledgment and receipt of this Protective Order;
4. Instruct the person to whom disclosure is made to return any document or other material which is marked “CONFIDENTIAL,” at the conclusion of the case, including notes or memoranda made from “CONFIDENTIAL” material; and
5. Maintain a list of persons to whom disclosure was made and the “CONFIDENTIAL” materials which were disclosed to that person.

II. POST-DISCOVERY PHASE

A. If any party, non-party, or attorney wishes to file, or use as an exhibit or as evidence at a hearing or trial, any “CONFIDENTIAL” document or material, they must provide reasonable notice to the party that produced the document or material. The parties and/or attorneys shall then attempt to resolve the matter of continued confidentiality by either (a) removing the “CONFIDENTIAL” marking, or (b) creating a mutually acceptable redacted version that suffices for purposes of the case. If an amicable resolution proves unsuccessful, the parties and/or attorneys may present the issue to the court for resolution. The proponent of continued confidentiality will have the burden of persuasion that the document or material should be withheld from the public record in accordance with (a) Local Rule of Civil Procedure 26.4, (b) the Administrative Procedures for Electronic Filing in the Southern District of West Virginia § 12, and (c) controlling precedent. See, e.g., Press-Enterprise Co. v. Superior Court, 478 U.S. 1, 8–9 (1986); Virginia Dep’t. of State Police v. Washington Post, 386 F. 3d 567, 575 (4th Cir. 2004).

B. Within thirty days after the conclusion of the action, each party shall gather the “CONFIDENTIAL” materials, copies thereof, and related notes and memoranda, including materials given by that party to any other individual, and shall return them to the party or attorney who originally disclosed them, with a certificate of compliance with the terms of this Protective Order, unless: (1) the document has been offered into evidence or filed without restriction as to disclosure; (2) the parties agree to destruction in lieu of return; (3) as to documents bearing the notations, summations, or other mental impressions of a receiving party or the party’s expert witness or consultant, that party elects to destroy the documents and certifies to the producing party that it has done so; or (4) otherwise required or allowed by law.<sup>1</sup> Notwithstanding the above requirements to return or destroy documents, counsel may retain attorney work product, including drafts of preliminary reports submitted by an expert or consultant, which includes information produced as “CONFIDENTIAL,” so long as that work product does not duplicate verbatim substantial portions or the text or images of confidential documents. Any such work product retained by counsel shall continue to be “CONFIDENTIAL” and shall be subject to this protective order. The counsel may use said work product in other litigation provided that the counsel does not use or disclose the confidential documents.

<sup>1</sup> The Court recognizes that, under West Virginia law, W. Va. C.S.R. § 114-15-4.2(b) defines the required period of claim file retention for an insurance company. However, the Court also recognizes that Defendants’ insurance company was organized under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania. According to 41 Pa.B 5849, insurance companies are required to maintain each claim file for seven (7) years after that claim file is closed. Therefore, the applicable claim file retention period in this matter will be seven (7) years after the conclusion of this lawsuit.

As an alternative procedure, Defendants’ insurance carriers may retain a copy of the confidential information protected by this Protective Order subject to the following conditions: That a continuing duty and obligation shall exist to maintain the confidentiality of the confidential information; that the confidential information be stored in a sealed or restricted manner that only allows access to the confidential information to the attorneys, staff, and/or claims personnel responsible for this Civil Action (or their successors); and that the confidential information will not be used for any other purpose or in any other proceeding unless prior written approval is obtained from Plaintiff, or as otherwise permitted by this Protective Order, or by further order of this Court.
